SERIES DESCRIPTION:

"Exile," a dramatic historical-fiction period-thriller is rooted in extraordinary, never-before explored or exploited events. This classic love, betrayal revenge story is best described as a Cuban "Count of Monte Cristo."

A boat mechanic, Antonio Cabrera, in Fidel Castro's Cuban Navy is falsely imprisoned when his naval colleagues lie and conspire against him. After 13 years in La Cabaña Prison, he escapes to Miami, 1975, finding himself at the epicenter of the explosive anti-Castro sentiment that divides the city's politics and culture. Shortly after he arrives, he obtains enormous wealth, changes his identity and wields his power to masterfully orchestrate revenge on the four conspirators who destroyed his life.

Set against the backdrop of Cuban militant extremism that permeated the powder-keg city of Miami from 1975 - 1980, along with a cadre of covert U.S. government operatives, Antonio ensnares each conspirator in a fascinating web that leads to their demise, and his vengeance; yet, despite his own horrible deeds is there still hope for a life fulfilled with the one he's always loved?
